Asian Studies in Asia (AAS-in-Asia) Annual Meeting, Bangkok, Thailand, July 1-4, 2019. (oral presentation)

5. Areeprachakun, P. The construction of othering: the study of the migrant workers from Myanmar and the boundaries and relationships between migrant workers from Myanmar and native-born people in Samut Sakhon province, Thailand. American Association of Geography (AAG) Annual Meeting, Washington DC, USA, April 3-7, 2019. (oral presentation)
6. Areeprachakun, P. The construction of Othering: the study of the migrant workers from Myanmar in Thailand in relation to the managers of unease. Conference of Thai Studies. University of Wisconsin-Madison. 2019. (oral presentation)
7. Areeprachakun, P. Social networks, Division of labor and the migrant workers from Myanmar. Conference of Thai Studies. University of Wisconsin-Madison. 2018. (oral presentation)
8. Areeprachakun, P. The Space of Minorities and the Racialized Boundary: The Study of a Burmese Migrant Labor in Mahachai, Thailand. 13th International Conference on Thai Studies. Chiang Mai, Thailand, July 15-18, 2017. (oral presentation)

Education

August 2014 – June 2020

Doctoral degree at University of Wisconsin-Madison, USA

Program :	Geography (major in Human Geography)
Dissertation :	The construction of othering: the study of the migrant workers from Myanmar and the boundaries and relationships between migrant workers from Myanmar and native-born people in Samut Sakhon province, Thailand
Advisor :	Ian Baird

October 2011- December 2012

Master degree from University of Bristol, UK

Degree :	Master of Science
Program :	Human Geography: Society and Space
Dissertation :	King Taksin Park: an ordinary therapeutic landscape in Thailand
Relevant Courses :	Interrogating Cultural Landscape, Researching Society and Space, Theorizing Society and Space, Social Statistics, After-neoliberalism?, Contemporary Debate in Human Geography
Advisor :	Veronica Della Dora

2007-2010

Bachelor degree from Chulalongkorn University, Thailand

Degree :	Bachelor of Arts
Major :	Geography
Award :	First Class Honor

Topics of interest

- The relation between population, society and culture
- International migration, domestic migration, and politics of migration/immigration
- Social, economic and spatial inequality, race and class in society and regional development
- Migrant workers, racialization, boundaries, performativity, performative bordering practices
- Migrant workers from Myanmar and Burmese studies in Thailand
- Political space for protesters