

Guide to part-time jobs

Interested in part-time work while you study? Gain some great work experience and grow your professional network too.

Looking for a part-time job?

Whether you're looking online for a job local to Queen Mary, or close to where you live, you can filter your search to a specific area. Make sure you read through the job description carefully to see if there is flexibility around your studies and other commitments you may have.

Where to look:

This is by no means an exhaustive list, think of it as a springboard for you to get started with your search.

- QMUL Careers Hub – start browsing for roles on our main jobs board, there are plenty to choose from.
- QTemps – Our very own agency.
- QMUL Student Union – a great place to find student staff roles to fit around your studies.
- Gov.uk/Jobs – a national resource for all sorts of opportunities, filter your search to the local area and get browsing.
- Studentjob.uk – a place to find part time and temporary jobs for students and internships across the UK.

There are plenty of other options too, including:

- Childcare – nannyjob.co.uk
- Tutoring – tutorjob.org
- Gyms/Leisure Centers
- Retail – retailchoice.com
- Restaurants/Cafes/Bars
- Tourist Attractions Museums and Art Galleries – artsjobs.org.uk

Support from Careers and Enterprise

If you need some tips on how to apply for a part-time job or how to write a great CV, we recommend booking an appointment for Application/CV Advice with a member of the Careers team. You can also book Careers Guidance Appointments and Practice Interviews, all on our website or over the phone.

We also offer support within our Aspire Programme, a unique QMUL career development programme consisting of work experience opportunities designed for the different stages of your career journey. This includes:

QIncubator

QTaster

QHack

QMentoring

The Student Consultancy Project

Microinternships

You can find out more about these opportunities on the QMUL Careers and Enterprise website.

Part Time Jobs Fairs

We run a Part Time Jobs Fair every semester, so keep an eye out for the next one.

Here's just a few employers and platforms who have attended our previous part-time jobs fairs:

Are you an International Student?

You can work part-time alongside your studies dependent on your visa conditions. Speak to the Advice and Counselling team if have any queries. You can also look on StudentCircus.com, they're a job search portal for current international students in the UK.

Take time to plan:

Use your time effectively when you job-hunt by using an organised approach. Utilise the support available to you: See the information on our website to learn more or book an appointment to speak to a careers consultant to explore your options. Create your own work experience: This can be through volunteering, starting a blog, or taking a course, for example. Be proactive: Up to 60% of jobs never get advertised.

Useful links

QMUL Careers and Enterprise

On our main website we provide support and resources on topics ranging from improving your CV and getting a part-time job to securing an internship or graduate scheme.

Industry Guides

Not sure where to start or how to get into your chosen field? These industry guides provide helpful advice, pathways, and resources for you to have a browse through.

QMUL Careers Hub

Our appointments can cover any careers query, and can be booked by all students, research staff and all those who have graduated from Queen Mary in the last three years.

Where to find us: Iq East Court, Room 0.08

✉ Careers@qmul.ac.uk

in QM Careers and Enterprise

📷 qmcareers

Please keep in mind that the websites in this document are not the only job websites available, but are a good place to start your search. We do not monitor these websites or assume responsibility for their content. If you are concerned about jobs that are scams, please contact us for advice at 020 7882 8533 or careers@qmul.ac.uk