

MASTER OF ARTS INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND GLOBALIZATION

The School of International Development and Global Studies (SIDGS) offers interdisciplinary programs leading to a Master of Arts (MA) in International Development and Globalization and a Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) in International Development.

The master's program is offered in collaboration with the Faculty of Arts, the Faculty of Law (common law and civil law), and the Faculty of Social Sciences and includes a co-op option.

The SIDGS offers an interdisciplinary MA program that exposes students to a broad range of development theory, policy and practice, while also permitting specialization in one of four fields: Conflict, Transitions and Peace; Growth, Private Sector and Social Inclusion; Livelihoods, Resources and Sustainability; and Social Movements, Equity and Human Rights. Students have opportunities for hands-on practice through Co-op and international internships, as well as for networking with development policymakers and Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs) in the federal capital.

The core courses of the program are offered each year in both English and French. The elective courses may be offered in either language; students are advised to check with the academic unit offering the course.

The Department offers a Concentration in Development Practice.

The Department offers a collaborative program in Women's Studies (at the MA level).

Language Training

Any of the program option available in the Masters of Globalization and International Development may be combined with one of two language training possibilities. Students may apply to enroll in the French Immersion. Alternatively, students in both the English or French streams of the MA program may opt for the "plus" program, which adds second-language training in French or English to program requirements.

The programs are governed by the academic regulations (<https://www.uottawa.ca/about-us/leadership-governance/policies-regulations/>) in effect for graduate studies.

Admission Requirements

For the most accurate and up to date information on application deadlines, language tests and other admission requirements, please visit the specific requirements (<https://www.uottawa.ca/graduate-studies/programs-admission/apply/specific-requirements/>) webpage.

To be considered for direct admission, candidates must hold:

1. An honour's bachelor's degree in international development and globalization or a related field (e.g., international studies and modern languages, environmental studies, religious studies, economics, geography, history, sociology, political science).

OR

2. An undergraduate law degree (LLB/LLL or equivalent).

An overall undergraduate average of 75% (B+) (calculated in accordance with graduate studies guidelines) is required.

A letter of intent outlining the candidate's interest in the program and relevant academic and practical experience must be submitted along with the application. Candidates should also indicate their preferred field (among four defined by the program).

Candidates who meet the basic admission requirements but who need to complete prerequisites for graduate courses or who need essential background knowledge in one or more fields may be admitted to a qualifying program.

Co-op Program

The School of International Development and Global Studies offers a co-op stream to a limited number of students who will request this option in their admission file. The co-op option gives selected students the opportunity to acquire practical work experience.

French Immersion Stream

Admission to the program via the French Immersion will be conditional on successfully attaining the standard set by the School in the "DVM Immersion Entry Test." The DVM Immersion Entry Test will be administered by the testing service of OLB (Official Languages and Bilingualism Institute), and must be written as part of the application process to the MA in Globalization and International Development. To be admitted to the French Immersion, the student must demonstrate an advanced intermediate level of proficiency in French, sufficient to enroll in FLS 3000-level courses.

Language Requirements

Candidates must be able to understand, speak and write either English or French fluently. Applicants whose mother tongue is neither English nor French are required, at the time of application, to provide evidence of proficiency in one of these languages. Proof of having achieved a score of at least 280 in the computer-based Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or in an equivalent test must be provided. For French proficiency, proof of having achieved a CanTEST score of 5.0 in Listening, in Reading, and in Writing must be provided.

In accordance with University of Ottawa regulations, examinations, assignments and the research paper or thesis may be written in either one of the two official languages (English or French).

Mentoring System

Applications are reviewed by the program admissions committee. The committee assigns each student a professor who acts as a mentor and assists in developing an individualized study plan that takes account of interdisciplinary requirements and of the student's needs, interests, and preferred field.

Lecture Series

All students are required, during the first year, to attend a lecture series where faculty and students from participating academic units, from other academic units or from outside organizations address important themes in International Development and Globalization.

Program Requirements

The program has four fields:

- Economic Growth, Private Sector and Social Inclusion
- Livelihoods, Resources and Sustainability
- Conflict, Transitions and Peace
- Social Movements, Equity and Human Rights

This program also has a co-op option (see below).

A maximum of 9 course units per term is allowed.

Requirements for this program have been modified. Please consult the 2025-2026 calendars (<https://catalogue.uottawa.ca/en/archives/>) for the previous requirements.

MA with Coursework

The requirements for this option consist of 24 units of courses.

Thesis Proposal

DVM 7990 Thesis Proposal

Thesis:

THM 7999 Master's Thesis

Co-op Option

In the Thesis option, Co-op students must enroll full-time and complete two work terms: FSS 6001 and FSS 6002.

In the course-based option, Co-op student must enroll full-time and complete at least one work term: FSS 6001.

Each work terms is graded P/F (pass/fail), based on the employer's report and on the written report completed by the student. (The report must be 30 pages, including appendices.) The report is evaluated by the professor in charge of the graduate co-op option in DVM.

The units awarded for co-op work terms may not be used to obtain equivalences for other courses. In other words, the co-op units are additional to the minimum requirements of the degree.

To remain in the co-op option, students must:

- Be enrolled full-time.
- Maintain a 7.0 cumulative grade point average.
- Obtain a satisfactory grade (P) for each co-op work term.

Concentration in Development Practice

The Concentration in Development Practice can be combined with the Coursework, and thesis options, and when successfully completed, is recognized on the student's official transcript.

The Concentration in Development Practice requires the fulfillment of the general requirements of the M.A. in International Development and Globalization. Within the total number of course units required by the MRP and coursework options of the M.A. program in International Development and Globalization, or with the addition of three course units (one course) to the thesis option a Concentration in Development Practice will be recognized on the student's transcript when the student applies for recognition of the concentration and the following courses are successfully completed.

Compulsory courses

DVM 6105	International Development Programming: Results-Based Approaches	3 Units
----------	---	---------

Optional courses

9 course units from:		9 Units
----------------------	--	---------

DVM 5171 Monitoring and Evaluation

DVM 5172 Gender-based Analysis

Second Language Requirement

Students admitted to the program without evidence of proficiency in the second official language must demonstrate their reading competence in this language at the earliest opportunity by passing the language requirements (DVM 5999) administered by the program. A candidate who fails the test will have to successfully complete a course at the Official Language and Bilingualism Institute (OLBI) approved by the program.

French Immersion

The French Immersion can be combined with any other program option or concentration in the Masters of Globalization and International Development, and when successfully completed, is recognized on the student's official transcript. The French Immersion is additional to the general requirements of the M.A. in Globalization and International Development. Students in the French Immersion will be required to take a minimum of 12 compulsory course units in French, including DVM 5500; DVM 5501, within the general MA program requirements. In addition to the general requirements, students registered in the French Immersion will successfully complete 5 FLS language courses, including FLS3500 during their studies.

A student who demonstrates competency in French on the "Graduate Immersion Entrance Test" that exceeds the level expected upon completion of FLS4000-level courses can register in the French Immersion, but will be exempted from the requirement to take all FLS courses except FLS3500, as long as the student completes the four core program courses in French.

"Plus" Language Training Option

The "plus English" or "plus French" can be combined with any other program option or concentration in the Masters of Globalization and International Development, and when successfully completed, is recognized on the student's official transcript. The French Immersion is additional to the general requirements of the M.A. in Globalization and International Development. Students in the "plus" option will be required to take a minimum of 5 FLS language courses, including FLS3500, during their studies.

Duration of the Program

In the Thesis and MRP options, students are expected to fulfill all requirements within two years. In the Coursework option, students are expected to fulfill all requirements within 12 months. The maximum time permitted is four years from the date of initial enrollment in the program. The Graduate French Immersion option could potentially add one semester to the length of the course option.

Research

Research at the University of Ottawa

Located in the heart of Canada's capital, a few steps away from Parliament Hill, the University of Ottawa ranks among Canada's top 10 research universities. Our research is founded on excellence, relevance and impact and is conducted in a spirit of equity, diversity and inclusion.

Our research community thrives in four strategic areas:

- Creating a sustainable environment
- Advancing just societies

- Shaping the digital world
- Enabling lifelong health and wellness

From advancing healthcare solutions to tackling global challenges like climate change, the University of Ottawa's researchers are at the forefront of innovation, making significant contributions to society and beyond.

Research at the Faculty of Social Sciences

The Faculty of Social Sciences represents a place of excellence in knowledge creation, research and training. Driven by both disciplinary and interdisciplinary perspectives, research at the Faculty is rich, innovative and varied, contributing to the depth of understanding and breadth of discussions on a variety of issues nationally and internationally. This research, whether it be fundamental, theoretical, applied or action-oriented, is generated by our renowned expertise, ultimately culminating in applications designed to influence individual communities and the betterment of society.

We have identified five research themes which collectively represent a large proportion of the research undertaken at the Faculty of Social Sciences:

- International Studies
- Francophonie
- Public Policy
- Health, Well-Being
- Justice, Society

Courses

DVM 5100 Understanding International Development and Globalization (3 units)

Study of leading theories and debates on the meaning, challenges and possibilities of development and globalization. Analysis and discussion of the different aspects of development and globalization, including its cultural, political economic, security, legal and territorial implications. Interdisciplinary approach, with a focus on discussion and evaluation of key texts.

Course Component: Seminar

DVM 5101 Research and Analysis Skills (3 units)

Research methods in international development and global studies. Analysis of epistemological foundations as well as ethical and practical issues associated with qualitative, quantitative and mixed research methodologies. Discussions of key aspects of research project development in academic and/or professional contexts. Experimentation with qualitative and/or quantitative research strategies and analytical tools.

Course Component: Seminar

DVM 5171 Monitoring and Evaluation (3 units)

The main approaches to development monitoring and evaluation of policies, programs and projects, which may include cost-benefit analysis, randomized controlled trials, qualitative evaluations, performance narratives, attribution analysis, outcome mapping, utilization-focused evaluation, participatory monitoring and evaluation. Consideration of links between monitoring, evaluation, and learning. Follows the guidelines of the International Development Evaluation Society (IDEAS).

Course Component: Lecture

DVM 5172 Gender-based Analysis (3 units)

Tools and critical analysis skills necessary for examining power dynamics and biases in gender relations, and commonly applied by major development organizations. Focus on human rights and gender-based analysis plus (GBA+) tools, gender mainstreaming techniques, and innovative approaches that will prepare students for conducting gender analyses.

Course Component: Lecture

DVM 5173 Financing for Development Initiatives (3 units)

Practical consideration of the modalities and issues associated with financing development initiatives. Particular attention will be paid, on the one hand, to the principal institutional sources of finance, such as multilateral, bilateral, public and public-private sources, and on the other hand, to innovative financing mechanisms such as microfinance, micro-insurance, social impact investing, crowdfunding, and public-private blended finance.

Course Component: Lecture

DVM 5500 Comprendre le développement international et la mondialisation (3 crédits)

Étude des principaux débats et théories sur le sens, les défis, et les possibilités du développement et de la mondialisation. Analyse et discussion des divers aspects du développement et de la mondialisation, des répercussions culturelles, politiques, économiques et juridiques ainsi que des conséquences sur les territoires et la sécurité. Approche interdisciplinaire mettant l'accent sur l'étude et l'évaluation de textes clés.

Volet : Séminaire

DVM 5501 Stratégies de recherche et d'analyse (3 crédits)

Méthodologies de recherche au sein des études du développement international et de la mondialisation. Analyse des fondements épistémologiques ainsi que des enjeux éthiques et pratiques des méthodologies quantitatives, qualitatives et mixtes. Discussions sur les aspects clés de l'élaboration de projet de recherche dans des contextes académique et/ou professionnels. Expérimentations pratiques avec des stratégies de recherche et outils analytiques qualitatifs et/ou quantitatifs.

Volet : Séminaire

DVM 5571 Suivi et évaluation (3 crédits)

Les principales approches de suivi et d'évaluation des politiques, programmes et projets de développement, incluant les analyses coûts-bénéfices, les essais aléatoires contrôlés, les évaluations qualitatives, le récit explicatif des performances, l'analyse d'attribution, la cartographie des incidences, l'évaluation axée sur l'utilisation, ainsi que le suivi et l'évaluation participatifs. Connecter les résultats issus des processus de suivi, d'évaluation et d'apprentissage. Élaboré autour du cahier de charges de l'International Development Evaluation Society (IDEAS).

Volet : Cours magistral

DVM 5572 Analyse axée sur le genre (3 crédits)

Les outils et les compétences d'analyse critique couramment utilisés par les principales organisations de développement pour étudier les dynamiques de pouvoir et les biais entourant les relations de genre. Accent sur des outils tels l'analyse comparative entre les sexes plus (ACS+) et les droits de la personne, l'intégration de la dimension de genre (mainstreaming) et les approches novatrices, et vise à préparer les étudiants à effectuer des analyses de genre.

Volet : Cours magistral

DVM 5573 Financement des initiatives de développement (3 crédits)

Étude pratique des modalités et des enjeux du financement des initiatives de développement. L'attention sera portée, d'une part, sur les principales sources institutionnelles de financement telles que le financement multilatéral, bilatéral, public, privé et public-privé, et, d'autre part, sur les mécanismes de financement innovants, tels que la micro-finance, la micro-assurance, les investissements à forts impacts sociaux, les financements communautaires, et les financements mixtes privés-publics.

DVM 6501 Croissance économique, secteur privé et inclusion sociale (3 crédits)

Comprendre le développement économique, notamment à travers les rôles du secteur privé et des politiques publiques, ainsi que leurs impacts sur la croissance économique, le développement humain, l'inclusion sociale, la pauvreté et les inégalités.

Volet : Séminaire

DVM 6502 Modes de vie, ressources et durabilité (3 crédits)

Relation entre les sociétés et la nature. Une attention particulière est accordée à la manière dont les relations de pouvoir orientent et déterminent l'utilisation de ressources comme la terre, l'eau, la nourriture et l'énergie ainsi qu'à la manière dont les moyens d'existence s'adaptent aux changements environnementaux dans des contextes ruraux et urbains variés. Les diverses approches conceptuelles incluent la théorie des biens publics, la résilience sociale et écologique, l'écologie politique et l'économie politique.

Volet : Séminaire

DVM 6503 Conflit, transitions et paix (3 crédits)

Les relations entre l'insécurité, les transitions, la paix et le développement. Les débats principaux portant sur les liens entre développement et sécurité ou, à l'inverse, entre insécurité, conflit et développement. Les différentes perspectives critiques quant à la connexion entre sécurité et développement. Enjeux associés avec l'(in)sécurité humaine, ainsi que les débats actuels en matière de transition et de paix.

Volet : Séminaire

DVM 6504 Mouvements sociaux, équité et droits humains (3 crédits)

Rôles, actions et impact des mouvements sociaux, de la société civile, et des réseaux informels dans la lutte contre le cercle vicieux de l'inégalité et de la vulnérabilité dans les pays en développement. Les thèmes abordés comprennent les questions de classe, de genre, d'ethnicité, de citoyenneté et de migration.

Volet : Séminaire

DVM 6505 La programmation en développement international : Les approches axées sur les résultats (3 crédits)

Le discours de l'efficacité de la coopération internationale comme contexte clé; les approches axées sur les résultats (AAR) pour divers acteurs et modalités (stratégies nationales, approches programmatiques, projets); les AAR dans le cycle de programmation (conceptualisation, planification budgétaire, mise en oeuvre, suivi et évaluation, etc.); les AAR dans divers contextes (ex. économies à revenu moyen versus États fragiles); limites des approches AAR.
