

OFFICE OF THE REGISTRAR

December 7, 2024

Dear AUB Faculty Members,

We hope that you are keeping safe.

Please note that the FINAL REVISED VERSION of the Fall 2024-25 final examination schedule is now posted at the following links:

By Date

By Course

We would like to draw your attention to the following:

- Because of the necessity of accommodating examinations abroad, the final examination schedule has been significantly modified.
- Some professors who had opted for no final examination have now asked us to schedule one for them.
- Many professors have decided to use computer-based (Moodle) examinations necessitating movement of courses to computer labs.
- All final examinations must be held in-person. For additional important guidelines about the final examinations during these exceptional times, please review the university's earlier communication here.

For students who are outside the country, the university established a certain number of testing centers with regional and international partners where students will be sitting for their final examinations. If you have any of these students in your classes, your Faculty/School Academic Continuity Team has been communicating with you about your role in this initiative. We appreciate your kind collaboration in ensuring this continuity measure for the benefit of our students is a success.

We apologize in advance that seeing that we are coordinating examinations across AUB and eight other sites in Europe, Africa, and the MENA region we can no longer make changes to the exam schedule.

If you have any questions, please contact regist@aub.edu.lb.

Thank you for your collaboration and understanding.

Kind regards,

Office of the Registrar
