Research Updates

Tri-Agency Updates

2025-12-23. Important update: Transitioning away from the Canadian Common CV (CCV)
The granting councils are in the process of gradually shifting toward a new narrative-style CV for all funding competitions. As this transition progresses, the use of the CCV will be phased out.
What does this mean for the granting councils (CIHR, NSERC, and SSHRC)?
The granting councils will continue to use the CCV for select funding opportunities as they gradually transition to a new narrative-style CV format. This shift will be implemented over time, and users will be supported throughout the process.
What does this mean for partner organizations?
As part of this transition, all partner organizations will end their use of the CCV by March 31, 2026, at the latest.

CIHR Monitoring of Clinical Trials: Investigators who received funding for a clinical trial in 2022 or later must register those trials and disclose results. Investigators must be in compliance to remain eligible for funding. Monitoring begins in February 2026; results will be published.

The Panel on the Responsible Conduct of Research Framework is seeking written feedback on proposed updates to the 2021 Framework. Submit your comments by April 17, 2026.
