

THE FAS PUBLICATION FUND FOR TENURED FACULTY

The FAS Tenured Faculty Publication Fund is intended to provide aid to tenured professors in the Faculty of Arts and Sciences seeking to find supplemental research funds to assist with costs related to scholarly publications, broadly defined. These needs might, for example, include expenses associated with indexing, obtaining digital images, securing copyright permissions, and modest subventions requested by not-for-profit publishers.

ELIGIBILITY:

All FAS tenured faculty members are eligible.

WHEN TO APPLY:

Rolling application.

WHERE TO APPLY:

Requests should be submitted to the appropriate Associate Dean for Faculty Affairs in the faculty member's primary division IUGCU.

AWARD LEVELS:

Reimbursement of up to $5,000 is available per faculty member during any 3-year period. Within this dollar limit, a faculty member may receive support for more than one book project. This funding is meant to supplement other available means of support; faculty are expected to seek departmental, center-based, and external funds before applying to this fund.

APPLICATION FOR THE FAS TENURED FACULTY PUBLICATION FUND

Name:

Harvard ID#:

Title:

Department:

University Address:

Email Address:

Title of Project:

Abstract of the book project (please include a letter/contract from the academic publisher making a commitment to publish the completed work).

Detailed Budget for Publication Need (please be specific about how each line item relates to the project):

Are any other applications pending or have they been received for support of this same publication need from other internal Harvard sources or from external funds? If so, please list such source(s). If not, please explain why no such applications have been submitted.

Signature

Date